Focusing on the definition of HIB and the investigation process.

Presented at the Sayreville New Teachers' Orientation

Human Resources, Operations and Compliance

August 25, 2015

Background

- On January 5, 2011, Governor Chris Christie signed into law P.L.2010, Chapter 122, an act concerning HIB in school settings that amended various parts of the statutory law.
- In particular for school policies and procedures, the act amended N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13 et seq., which include the requirements for the prevention and intervention of HIB on and off school grounds, at school-sponsored functions and on school buses.

Why is there a revised law?

- The Legislature specifically stated in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13.1 that the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights is necessary for a number of reasons, including:
 - 32% of students aged 12 through 18 were bullied in the previous school year.
 - Source: 2009 study by the US DOJ and DOE entitled “Indicators of School Crime and Safety”
 - 25% of the responding public schools indicated that bullying was a daily or weekly problem;
 - Source: 2009 study by the US DOJ and DOE entitled “Indicators of School Crime and Safety”
 - The percentage of students bullied in New Jersey is 1 percentage point higher than the national median.
 - Source: 2009 study by the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention entitled “Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance”

What are the purposes and goals of the new law?

- School districts, students, parents, teachers, principals, other school staff and board members would benefit from the establishment of clearer standards on:
 - What constitutes HIB; and
 - How to prevent, report, investigate and respond to HIB.
- The Legislature intends to strengthen the standards and procedures for preventing, reporting, investigating and responding to incidents of HIB (on and off school premises).
- Strengthening standards for preventing, reporting, investigating, and responding to incidents of HIB will help to reduce the risk of suicide among students.

Things to Remember

- A main goal is the prevention of HIB, and the new law's procedures and policy requirements should assist with that goal.
- Strictly following the new law's procedures and related reporting requirements should mean that District's potential exposure to liability is significantly reduced if not eliminated.
- The distinction between Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying within the meaning of the law, and harassment, intimidation and bullying that does not fall within the statutory definition.
 - Not every episode of "bullying" will fall under this law, but there are disciplinary consequences nonetheless.

 - Only when the conduct which is the subject of the proposed consequence materially and substantially interferes with the requirements of appropriate discipline in the operation of the school.

Interpreting the definition: Example No. 1

Kevin and a number of his high school friends are classmates with a new child in school, Oscar. Kevin and his classmates are all friends with Oscar on Facebook.

- About a month into the school year, Kevin discovers that Oscar is gay.
- As a result, he stops talking to Oscar, and then tells all of his friends to “de-friend” Oscar on Facebook because he is gay; most of them do it.
- When Oscar is trying to figure out why he’s been “de-friended,” a classmate that remained friends with him on Facebook explains why.
- Oscar is upset by this and texts Kevin, “Why?” Kevin responds, “don’t send me any more texts u fag.”
- Oscar tells his parents that he is too sick to go to school for two days thereafter. His parents eventually discover what happened, and report this incident to the school principal as an incident of HIB.

Question: Is this HIB?

- Is this HIB? Answer: Yes.
 - There was at least one written act and/or gesture;
 - The acts were reasonably perceived as being motivated by an actual or perceived characteristic; and
 - It took place off school grounds, but meets the requirements of the statute.
 - It substantially disrupted or interfered with either the orderly operation of the school and/or the rights of other students.
- and
- It physically or emotionally harmed Oscar, AND/OR insulted or demeaned Oscar, AND/OR created a hostile educational environment for Oscar.

Interpreting the definition: Example No. 2

- Nunzio and Seamus are walking to class having a conversation. Seamus takes Nunzio's baseball cap, Nunzio asks for it back, but Seamus won't give it to him.
- Nunzio, in trying to get it back, and says, "You better..."
- Seamus says, "Or what? Are you going to get your dad to give me some cement shoes and throw me in the Hudson River? Isn't that how you guys take care of business?"
- Nunzio manages to grab the cap from Seamus and bops Seamus over the head with it. Nunzio laughs at Seamus and says, "You've been watching too much Sopranos, you idiot."
- A teacher observing the incident in the hallway admonishes both of them. They go into class together. There are no further issues with the students.
- The teacher, concerned that this may be an incident of HIB, reports it to the Principal.

Question: Is this HIB?

- Answer: No. This is normal conflict.
 - There was a verbal and physical act; and
 - It took place on school grounds; and
 - It is reasonably perceived as being motivated by a perceived characteristic.

BUT

- There is no substantial disruption or interference with either the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students.
- Moreover, it doesn't appear that Nunzio was emotionally harmed, felt insulted, or subject to a hostile educational environment.

Interpreting the definition: Example No. 3

- Clark is a newly-enrolled middle school student whose ears are somewhat large for his head.
- Over the period of a few months, his fellow classmates routinely make fun of him because of the size of his ears, calling him “Dumbo,” asking if he can fly with those ears, and other juvenile acts making fun of his appearance.
- Individual students are admonished and/or given detention or other sanctions, but Clark hears it from a different student each time.
- Clark finally decides to stand up to his tormentors, but instead they continue to make fun of him, and call him a “wimp” for complaining about it. They completely ostracize him and leave him out of any activities, and he tells his guidance counselor that he hates coming to school and wishes he could go to school somewhere else.

Question: Is this HIB?

- Answer: Yes.
 - There were many verbal and physical act; and
 - It took place on school grounds; and
 - The actions were motivated by an actual characteristic (in this case, Clark's big ears).
 - There was a substantial disruption or interference with either the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students (Clark's); and
 - Clark felt insulted and demeaned by the actions of his classmates, and suffered emotional harm.

Is it HIB or just “conflict?”

- Keys:
 - Know the definition and all of its component parts, the most important of which are:
 - Motivated by an actual or perceived distinguishing characteristic
 - Substantial disruption or interference with either the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students.
 - The result: (a) causes physical or emotional harm or (b) is insulting or demeaning or (c) creates a hostile educational environment
 - Ask the correct questions to ensure that we elicit information that identifies whether or not all parts of the definition have been met.
 - Analyze all of the information gathered in light of the definition’s various components.
